500 ENJOY SECOND BREAD LOAF OUTING

Rain Fails to Dampen Spirits of Holiday Crowd

200 WALK TO SILENT CLIFF

Games, Dancing, Hikes and Bonfire Feature in Entertainment

Marred solely by a hard rain on the second day which drove most of the 500 pleasure seekers indoors and made somewhat hazardous the return trip that afternoon, the second annual two-day outing at Bread Loaf Mountain was completed Saturday and two hundred members of the college body were pleasantly introduced to the natural wonders of the 30,000 acre forest tract of the College, in the heart of the Green Mountains. The entire company which included about twenty-five members of the faculty, were quartered in the large, rambling Inn proper and in the half-dozen outlying cottages without serious overcrowding.

"Plenty to Eat and Plenty to Do" was the order of things at Bread Loaf. Under the able direction of Mrs. Maude O. Mason and Mrs. Kate Mills a large kitchen force labored untiringly during the two days of the excursion in providing "three square" meals, and one additional—for good measure—for the camping party. Places for 497 were set in the spacious dining hall and members of the undergraduate body volunteered their services as waiters. Considering the number of campers the list of casualties was surprisingly small. Cook '24 fractured his nose in a football scrimmage Friday, but aside from one or two minor sprains no other injuries were reported. Friday afternoon a program of class games was carried out in the field south of the Inn, and in the evening a huge bonfire on the same site drew a large crowd of watchers. Dancing was another favored form of amusement and the hall in the rear of the hotel was well filled most of the time.

Rain overtook the two hundred or more hikers who started off in the direction of Silent Cliff and Lake Pleiad Saturday before they had reached their destinations. Low hanging clouds obscured much of the view from the former elevation but a few remained over night to witness the effect of the season's first fall of snow on the richly colored autumnal foliage.

The return trip was commenced shortly after dinner Saturday, in a drizzling rain which softened the mountain road considerably. A score or more pleasure cars were pressed into service in transporting the campers back to Middlebury. However, considerably more than three hundred hiked down the mountain, while some covered the entire nine miles on foot. At East Middlebury the party was met by six motor trucks which conveyed the remaining members to Middlebury.

NORWICH TO PLAY HERE THIS WEEK

First Game of State Championship Series Saturday

CADET ELEVEN POWERFUL

Plays Strong Defensive Game---Morey Not Decided on Line-Up

Middlebury Results

Dartmouth 28, Middlebury 3
West Point 19, Middlebury 0

Norwich Results

Dartmouth 34, Norwich 3
University of Maine 0, Norwich 14
Rensselaer 0, Norwich 0

Saturday afternoon on Porter Field Middlebury and Norwich will meet in the first game of the series to decide the football championship of the state of Vermont. The contest will give the student body at Middlebury the first opportunity of the season to see the 'varsity in action.

Norwich Strong on Defensive

Norwich will bring a strong eleven to Middlebury, a team that has a record of one victory, a tie and a defeat, having scored 17 points against 34 made by its opponents. So far little has been seen of Norwich offensive, the cadets having played heavy teams, but they have developed a good defensive game that may give the Middlebury backs plenty of trouble.

Bradley, quarter-back, who was injured in the R. P. I.-Norwich game but will probably be back in the line-up against Middlebury, is a fine punter. Ashton, a star tackler, who has been out since the Cadets played Dartmouth, and Flanders the strongest defensive man in the Norwich line, are expected to help the visiting team materially if they are in condition to play. Norwich stock also received a boost by the return of Hylan, veteran

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN HERE SATURDAY

Williams Team to Race Middlebury Over 5-Mile Course

INAUGURATES NEW SPORT

Promising Squad to Represent the College---Williams Strong

Saturday afternoon Middlebury will inaugurate cross country running as a 'Varsity sport when the Blue will race Williams here. The course which will be about five miles in length will start either at the gymnasium or on South Main street in front of the Deke House and will lead around the sides of a rough triangle formed by the Cornwall and Bristol roads. The finish will be in front of the grand stand on Porter Field and the start will be arranged so that the runners will cross the tape during the intermission between the halves of the Norwich game.

Williams Has Strong Team

The Williams team which will meet her eis a strong aggregation, Crofts the Massachusetts miler being one of the stars. Although Coach Brown has not definitely announced his selection of six or seven men for Saturday's meet, the Middlebury team will probably be chosen with consideration of the showing made by the candidates in the trial run held Thursday afternoon over the proposed course. In this race Cole '22 came in slightly in the lead with Cook '24 behind him. Their time was fast. The others finished in the following order: Palmer '25, Gray '23, Wexler '24, Cleveland '25, Whitten '24, Hamlin '25, Lee '25, Thompson '23, Carroll '24, P. Whitney '23, Lawson '23, Rogalski and Mayercik '24. Oliver '25 who injured his leg was forced to drop out before the finish.

Shelvey '23 who by reason of his track record is regarded as a strong contender was unable to take place in the trials, but may enter in the Williams run. Lewis '22, Walsh '23 and Burpeau '25 were also unable to con-

WEST POINT DOWNS MIDDLEBURY 19-0

Muddy Field and Wet Ball Handicap Speed of 'Varsity

MIDDLEBURY LINE STRONG

Kalin Plays Great Game at Center---Gallagher Hurt

Playing in a steady downpour of rain that made the field a sea of mud, Middlebury went down to defeat 19-0 at the hands of West Point in the third game of the season at West Point Saturday. Middlebury faced the same strong team composed entirely of 'varsity and first string men that defeated Springfield 26-0 the previous week. The Blue was outweighed 15 pounds to the man but put up a hard fighting game despite the loss of two regulars Brown and Moynihan from the line-up.

A wet slippery ball together with a heavy slow field were a great disadvantage to Coach Morey's charges, the Middlebury defense depending to a large measure on speed with shift formations.

Army Scores Twice in First Period

Fumbles at inopportune moments accounted for Army's two touchdowns in the first period. In the second and third quarters Middlebury held the soldiers scoreless but in the final period Smythe, whose end runs were a feature of the game, circled the end and dashed 25 yards for the Army's final score. Smythe also scored one of the touchdowns in the first and McLaren, the other most effective ground-gaining back scored the other.

Middlebury Line Holds

In spite of their weight advantage West Point found the light but aggressive Middlebury line a stone wall and but for fumbles would have had difficulty in scoring. Gallagher, until taken out with a broken rib, and Potratz broke through time after time, throwing West Point back for losses. Kalin, substituting for Moynihan at center until removed in the third quarter due to injuries, played well on the defensive and did some remarkably fine passing with a wet ball. Reinbrecht and Lampher also held well in the center of the line.

Norton and Leary covered punts exceptionally well, and Keppler who replaced Gallagher showed flashes of rare form.

The backfield was strong, making four first downs. Ashley was one of the most consistent ground-gainers until taken out because of injuries and Daly, who replaced him, looked good. Captain Gollnick proved a mountain of strength on the defensive and Drost and Quackenbush played their usual fast games. Middlebury, however, in some cases showed rather poor selection of plays and the tackling, due to mud on the uniforms, was poor at times. The line-up:

Army 19	Middlebury 0
White, l. e.,	l. e., Gallagher
Davidson, l. t.,	l. t., Potratz
Goodman, l. g.,	l. g., Lampher

PRESIDENT THOMAS TO BE INAUGURATED THURSDAY

State College, Pa. Oct. 11.—On Thursday, October 14, Dr. John M. Thomas, for 13 years president of Middlebury College, will be formally inaugurated as president of Pennsylvania State College. Dr. Thomas has been actively carrying out his new duties since his departure from Middlebury last April and has been very well received.

Pennsylvania State College has a student body of nearly 5000 men and women and the dxecutive numbers more in the faculty at his new post than were in the entire student body at Middlebury. In addition to the regular collegiate work, the College does much extension work, as do most state institutions.

A part of the inauguration week will be devoted to a conference on public school education at which numerous prominent educators will speak, among them being Dr. Henry W. Holmes, dean of the graduate school of education at Harvard. Many of the alumni are expected to be back for the inauguration. Middlebury will be represented in the ceremonies by Professor Charles Baker Wright.

MANY ALUMNI ATTEND CONTEST AT WEST POINT

A form letter circulated among the alumni by the Middlebury College Alumni Association was largely instrumental in securing a large attendance of Middlebury rooters at the West Point game Saturday. The letter which contained information regarding schedules and routes from New York to the point was issued by E. P. Lang, C. S. Jones and T. B. Ormsbee who compose the Executive Committee of the New York Association.

Quiet in Chapel

Carelessness on the part of the student body in regard to the quiet which should be maintained during the daily chapel service has long been a source of annoyance. It is especially noticeable during the period immediately preceding the opening of the exercises, when an incessant buzz of conversation coupled with the flurry of late arrivals produces a very audible commotion. The practice of letter-reading and last minute studying is one disuse of which should also be emphatically urged.

President Moody's recent request that a different attitude be shown in the chapel should not be taken lightly. It is very evident that this distraction of attention can bring about no spirit of reverence or even of interest and enjoyment in what is really a beautiful service. The chapel is not a rendezvous for an exchange of confidences, and it should not be approached as such.

A New Minor Sport

Evidence of the general trend toward expansion which has characterized the recent Middlebury athletic program comes in the inauguration Saturday of a new 'varsity sport. Whether or not Middlebury wins the cross-country run scheduled with Williams she will be the gainer.

The introduction of a new field of endeavor in sport presents one more opportunity to the student body for the participation of the undergraduates in some form of systematized exercise. Athletics here must never be so concentrated upon the major sports that the college will receive a disproportionate preeminence along certain lines. Middlebury must always be an exponent of good sportsmanship, sport for sport's sake, and any confinement of athletic activity that demands a totally unbalanced development is to be condemned. Growth and development to be healthy must be well rounded. A limitation on the realms and variety of sport would be an unjust discrimination and would inevitably lead to the limitation af athletics for the participation of the few specialists in the more prominent athletic endeavors. This would seem to be defeating the original and prime purpose of college athletics.

Coach Brown and the track management are to be congratulated for taking the initiative in introducing fall distance running to the college. The undergraduate body will do well to recognize the men who will represent them Saturday. Cross-country should take its stand among the minor sports at Middlebury. At the next meeting of the Undergraduate Association Tuesday opportunity will be given the student body to place it where it belongs.

To Dr. Thomas

To former President John M. Thomas, whose inauguration as chief executive of Pennsylvania State College will take place Thursday, Middlebury once more expresses her good will. Dr. Thomas performed a wonderful service for Middlebury, a service that enriched the college and gained for him many friends and a wide recognition in the field of education. We are confident that in his new duties he will be loved and respected even as he was here.

A word of thanks is due to Norman H. Polhemus '24 and Ervin F. Gollnick '25 who devoted the greater part of their time at Bread Loaf Inn to providing pleasure for others. Between them they kept the piano going whenever there was any one to enjoy it. Those who participated in the informal dancing should not forget the sacrifices these two men made to make their pleasure possible.

CYRIL E. SHELVEY CHOSEN TO HEAD JUNION CLASS

At a meeting of the junior class held Thursday afternoon, Cyril E. Shelvey of Waterbury was elected president to succeed Eddie S. Kalin. The other officers chosen were vice-president, Barbara Browning of West Orange, N. J., secretary, Margaret Porter of Walpole, N. H., treasurer, Samuel Thompson of Greenwich, N. Y.

He was sophomore class treasurer, treasurer of the Undergraduate Association and a member of the Sophomore Rules Committee. He has also been a member of the track team for two years, his specialty being the middle distances. He is a member of Chi Psi Fraternity.

BISHOP EDWIN HUGHES SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Defines the Christian Life as the Natural Life

In a very effective and practical sermon at Vespers Service in Mead Memorial Chapel Sunday, Bishop Edwin H. Hughes took as his text Luke 15:17, "He came unto himself" and showed that the truly helpful Christian life must be a natural life.

Bishop Hughes was of the opinion that people would come nearer to themselves and to God if they could but forget their sophistication and return to the simple, natural faith and prayers of their childhood when there never was a doubt of the omnipotence of God. The difficulties along the road to success in certain lines of business was emphasized and it was explained that nothing really worth while can be gained except through hard toil. Just as Christ said to his disciples, "Take up thy cross and follow me," in the same way business or scholarship repeats, "If thou wouldst be successful, take up thy cross and follow me."

BENEDICT AND FROST ON KALEIDOSCOPE BOARD

Miss Helen I. Benedict and Miss Esther Frost '23 have been appointed to The 1923 Kaleidoscope board to take charge of the social and nonsensia departments respectively.

Work on the senior write-ups is to be completed this week. Further plans regarding details of this feature of the work will be announced as soon as possible by the literary editors, Miss Marion C. Buffum and R. R. Shepardson.

It is requested that all those intending to secure sittings with the White Studio of New York to whom the contract for photographs was awarded should communicate with the editorial board at once as a complete list of work must be forwarded to the photographers at once.

ANNUAL FROSH P-RADE BEFORE NORWICH GAME

Saturday afternoon before the Norwich game the Frosh will don costumes to partake in the annual Freshman P-rade. Assignments of impersonations and original make-ups for about 70 men will be made by the Sophomore Rules Committee and it is assured that all the old-time favorites as well as many of the new will be depicted by the freshmen.

The line of march will form in front of Old Chapel and proceed down the campus, through the principle streets of town and back to the athletic field in time for the participants to witness the game.

Dorothy Noyes '18

Word has been received of the death of Dorothy Noyes of Salisbury. Miss Noyes was a member of the class of '18, Middlebury. She belonged to Alpha Chi Sorority.

Evidence of Dr. Thomas' popularity among the students at Penn State College has come to The Campus in the following statements concerning him written by a Penn State undergraduate. The tribute is totally spontaneous, being enclosed in a letter received by the Middlebury Song Book Committee.

"This letter is pertaining to music alone, so I will have to watch so that I do not branch too far off on the subject of 'Prexy'. I have met Dr. Thomas and I have talked to him about these songs, as well as meeting him in student activities, and he is a wonderful man. He is entering into the hearts of every one of us, and though his time with us has been very short we have all grown to love and respect him. As a member of the student body at Penn State I can assure you that our new 'Prexy' has been a fine acquisition, and we look forward to a wonderful goal, while under his guidance. * * * We are under obligation to you for giving us such an able and splendid 'Prexy'".

PRES. MOODY ADDRESSES Y. W. C. A. ON "PRAYER"

A well-attended meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Thursday evening in Pearsons Social hall when President Moody addressed the students on the subject of Prayer. He made clear the strengthening and enriching qualities of prayer and urged that it should not be crowded out of our life either because of the pressure of events or through fear of appearing as good as we really are.

Immediately following the meeting a rally was held for the purpose of familiarizing the freshmen with the college songs.

HOYT '22 FEATURES IN WORLD SERIES

Yankee Twirler, Who Attended Middlebury in Fall of 1919, Has Had Remarkable Career

For the second time in the past few years Middlebury has been represented in a world series baseball battle. This year Waite Hoyt is featuring for the New York Americans. Hoyt attended Middlebury in the fall of 1919 and was a sargeant in Company B during the S. A. T. C. While in college Hoyt played in the backfield on the football team.

His career in big league baseball has been very successful especially since he joined the Yankees. The latter part of this season he took his regular turn in the box and became one of Manager Huggins most dependable twirlers. Thursday he pitched the Yankees to their second victory over the Giants, allowing but two hits and winning 3-0. Considering that this was Hoyt's first title game, his showing was remarkable. The game was a pitchers' battle throughout. Nehf, the Giant twirler allowing but three hits himself, was clearly outpitched by his youthful rival. Hoyt made one of the three hits that were registered for the Yankees.

The other Middlebury representative in a recent world's series was Ray "Pick" Fisher, a graduate in the class of '10 who pitched some masterly games for the Cincinatti Reds when they defeated the Chicago White Sox for the title in 1919.

MISS SULLIVAN ELECTED SENIOR VICE-PRESIDENT

The senior class met for the second time Wednesday afternoon and chose the remainder of its officers, Paul M. Ross having been elected president at a previous meeting. Miss Julia Sullivan of Waterbury, Conn., was selected for vice-president, Charles E. Howard of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., treasurer and Miss Ida L. Jennings of Green's Farms, Conn., secretary.

L. C. Squire '04 of Council Bluff, Ia., spent the week-end with the college at Bread Loaf Inn.

test for positions on the team Saturday but will be reckoned in the selection of a future team, Thursday's trial race not being final, but merely to aid in making the first selection.

Scoring will be in accordance with the usual methods in long races of this sort. First place will count as one, second two and so on, the points a man makes counting against his own team rather than for it. Thus the team having the lowest score will be declared the winner.

R. P. I. Also on Schedule

Manager of track Whitney who has been working on a cross country schedule has announced a meet with R. P. I., at Troy, November 5. A run with Dartmouth is pending as is a meet between Middlebury freshmen and Schenectady High School.

Coach Brown in sponsoring fall cross-country work urges the value of the training to all track men, the main object of the schedule being to develop distance runners for the track team next spring. The final team has not yet been chosen and there is still opportunity for new men to place on the team which will meet Rensselaer and possibly Dartmouth. Men expecting to compete in the distance events for the track team should report to Coach Brown at once.

of many seasons, to his regular position at end.

Middlebury Stars Injured

Several changes in the Middlebury line will be made this week in order to present the strongest possible combination against Norwich. Both Moynihan and Gallagher are in doubtful condition and Brown will positively be missing. Moynihan was not used against West Point at all so that he might recuperate from the injuries received against Dartmouth, but it is not yet certain that he will be able to get back in his old position at center Saturday. Gallagher suffered a cracked rib against Army and is troubled with stiff legs. Leary, who has been subbing at end, has played good football but he is very light for offensive work.

Although Middlebury has only scored 3 points as against 63 made by her opponents in the first three games of the season, this can not be taken as indicative of the strength of the offensive of the Blue team as compared with that of Norwich. Middlebury has thus far played three of the most powerful elevens in the east and has been outweighed ten to fifty pounds per man by all her opponents, Harvard, Dartmouth and West Point. Against such teams the Middlebury defensive has been put to greater test than her offensive, but the number of first downs made by Morey's men in every game shows that there is scoring power in the aggregation.

Coach Morey is not decided regarding the line-up he intends to use Saturday but according to likely indications, the line-up will be as follows:

Norwich	Middlebury
Maher, l. e.,	l. e., Norton
Flanders, l. t.,	l. t., Potratz
Tyler, l. g.,	l. g., Reinbrecht
Radigan, c.	c., Moynihan
